Class Poem

*The bells are ringing, the whistles have blown,
The ships are riding high.
Now we must board whiche'er we choose
And sail to the rim of the sky.*

*Help us to choose, O Father in Heaven,
The ship with the straightest keel;
The one with the stoutest timber and iron,
And heaviest hand on the wheel.*

*Through the tropical wind and the arctic sleet,
In blinding flash and rain,
Past straits and reefs where others were wrecked
We'll bring her safe again.*

*Teachers and friends, good people on shore:
Fear not for us as we part.
From you we've learned to guide our ship
With a stern and obedient heart.*

Class History

Yep, that's us—the Senior Class of 1946. Smallest graduating class in the history of the High School (we think) and also the most misunderstood. We've really had our troubles; but hasn't it all been fun!

We started off in the fall of forty-one on the third floor of the Elementary School. Those of us who had skipped the newly-added eighth grade and others who had filtered in made up our class. Ardie Hamilton was our Freshman Class President. And how could we forget marching single file to class; Mrs. Bentz teaching first aid; and Mrs. Plemmons stating, "Mathematicians have agreed . . ."

The next year we were promoted to the Sophomore Class and to the Baptist Church. Several weeks later, however, we were told, "Pick up your desks and pass out quietly." This accomplished, we were soon settled in the Cone House—in the kitchen—chemistry room now. That was the year we had algebra in the master bedroom; also the year we had at least six different English teachers. Winifred Thompson was Class President, and we gave a Sophomore dance at the Legion Hut.

Our Junior year found us in Room 23, back in the Elementary School—this time in the basement—and under the wing of Miss Anderson. With her guidance and the leadership of Houston Teague, Class President, we went to work and sold more magazine subscriptions than any Junior Class before us. Also, for the first time in a number of years, Class Rings were ordered during the Junior year. Plans for the Junior-Senior banquet were made and kept very secret. The Seniors sadly thought that our plans included a hayride and wiener roast. In reality the Junior-Senior was a dinner-dance at the Graham Memorial. The Seniors were foiled again when we declared an "I Don't Speak to Seniors!" Day. The Juniors split two basketball games with the Seniors, our boys winning the second. Junior Marshals were chosen by the Senior Class, nevertheless, and relations were friendly between the two Classes at graduation.

Well, it was a hard fight, but we won. We finally were Seniors. We were stationed in "Ditmars' Dope Factory" next to the cafeteria and our home-room teacher, Mrs. Ditmars, as well as most of the rest of the teaching staff, was new to us. But, with the help of Mr. Davis, many things were done during our last year of CHHS. The much-discussed Athletic Association was put into effect and officers were elected by the members. Extra-curricular clubs were organized with teachers as sponsors. Senior Sponsors were elected by each class. Drinks and food were sold at basketball games by the Seniors. And a formal Senior dance was held.

And so, after four years of "higher learning," we graduate. We leave behind us an outstanding record . . . outstanding in many ways. While we weren't necessarily the best that comes in the little package, we were the surprise that's hidden in the great, big one.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Graduating Class of Chapel Hill High School, on leaving this realm, hereby do make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament. With best wishes to our posterity we bequeath our all, the best and the worst, to those listed below:

Item I—Our only family heirloom, namely, the ability to stand alone, we bestow to the rising Sophomore Class.

Item II—Robert Brooks leaves his collection of photographic experiences to Bill Foister in the hope that it will do the latter more good than it did the former.

Item III—David Sharpe leaves his walking encyclopedia to his chemistry teacher, Mr. Pittman.

Item IV—Houston Teague, having spent all the Student Council funds, regrets that he can't give the girls anything but love.

Item V—Elizabeth Lyons willingly presents her ledger and red pencils to the business manager of next year's Proconian.

Item VI—Betsy Emory leaves her talent for driving and for talking sweetly to policemen to Jean Cashion with the hope that she uses them to the best advantage and stays out of court.

Item VII—Joyce Ferguson's smoke rings are graciously left to Peggy Durham providing she doesn't use them until she comes of age.

Item VIII—Ruth Young leaves her ability with music to the next year's high school bandleader with the hope that it will be put to good use.

Item IX—Confident that he deserves them, Billy Basnight presents his aliases, "Wolf" and "Casanova," to Scott Gardner.

Item X—Pat Winslow passes on her basketball ability to Jo Besse with the warning never to let down her guard.

Item XI—Musically, Clyde Pridgen and Nancy Williams leave their songs to Elizabeth Morrison and Lois Whitt, and Carlyle Markham presents her eighty-eight keys to Madaleine Jennings.

Item XII—Roger Neal, after much consideration, leaves his stilts to Neal Creighton, hoping that he will be careful with them.

Item XIII—Edward Buckner joyfully turns over his taxi service to Milo Crawford or anyone else who will take it.

Item XIV—Preston Wescoat leaves her quiet ways for Jane Webb, Mary Deane Williams, and Esther Cheek to share.

Item XV—Catherine Lewis bestows upon Emmett Pendergraph her blonde tresses and a portion of her bobby pins.

Item XVI—Stanley Cohen, with a sly remark, passes on to Jack McCauley his ever-ready wit and humor.

Item XVII—Winifred Thompson grants her quiet dignity and poise to Phyllis Ferguson with the hope that she may use them well.

Item XVIII—Erwin Danziger leaves Mrs. Peacock the book that made him infamous, How To Win An Argument.

Item XIX—Betty Sue Duncan leaves Stanford Whitfield in the hands of the Junior girls, knowing that he will be well taken care of.

Item XX—Jimmy Blake gives his athletic ability and modesty to his faithful friend, Smitty Lineberger.

Item XXI—Ardie Hamilton leaves her beautiful smile and Ipana Tooth Paste to Dot Hogan.

Item XXII—Jack and Jimmy Crawford leave their troubles of dual names to Joyce and John Boone.

Item XXIII—Watts Sparrow bestows his knowledge of engines upon Dale Dollar.

Item XXIV—Howard Bennett and John Curtiss leave their ability to get quickly settled in a new place to newcomers next year.

Item XXV—Edwin Cheek leaves his typewriter to Jocelyn Rhyne in the hope that it will cut down on her errors.

Item XXVI—Nancy Shields leaves her passion for Nelson Eddy to Miss Lewis to make her shortin' bread better.

Item XXVII—Bootsie Taylor, with fond expectations, bequeaths her smiling personality to Madge Crawford.

Item XXVIII—After great consideration, Rebekah Huggins has decided just to leave school.

In witness, whereof, we, the Senior Class, being of sound mind (?) do hereby affix our signature.

"REC" Activity Reaches New High

'Hillife' To Be Delivered Today

After about three months with the printer, engraver, and bookbinder, the Hillife, 1946 emerges today. Ever since the copy and pictures were turned in last February to Mr. Pugh at the Orange Printshop, the final "coming-out" date of the annual has been eagerly awaited.

Copies of the publication will be issued to people who pledged in the winter. These students may purchase their copies on the Cone House porch during study halls today.

Library Club To Give Tea Friday

Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon the Library Club will have a tea for their mothers. Under the direction of Mary Deane Williams, Club president, the Library has been festively decorated, and all shelves and corners have been given a thorough dusting. The tea is from four to six, in the library and all mothers of Library Club members are urged to come.

This year activities at the Recreation Center hit a new high with a full program. With the service schools gone, the "Rec" was open every afternoon until 5:30. In addition, during the basketball season, the Center cooperated with the classes in school in giving after-game parties.

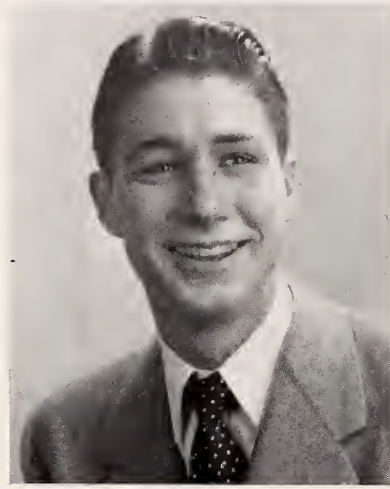

Whether one wants to play a game of chess, hear the latest record, shuffle through a game of shuffleboard or just sit down and read a good magazine, the Recreation Center is the place to do it.

ABSENT: Hubert Durham, Barbara Brooker, Nancy Blocksidge, Marie Sparrow.

This year the hard-working Student Council, under the leadership of President Houston Teague, proved itself vitally interested in representing the students on all school affairs and projects, large and small.

One of the first accomplishments of the Student Council during 1945-46 was the publishing of the fifth edition of the CHHS Handbook to help orient the incoming freshman class and new students. Other projects have been the sponsoring of clean-up campaigns for the school grounds and active participation in such nation-wide drives as victory bond sales, the sale of tuberculosis seals, and the March of Dimes campaign.

FRANK AND SAU FUNDS

The most important task, as well as the most difficult one, undertaken by the Council was the forming of a brand new Athletic Association. This job had been attempted several times in previous years but was not completed until this year. The Council did everything in its power to give the new organization a good start by drawing up a proposed constitution, supervising the sale of membership tickets, and holding an officer-election.

Art Club

SECOND ROW: Lindsay Holland, Neal Creighton, Joyce Ferguson, Betsy Emory, Dana Phipps, Preston Wescoat, Patricia George, Jane Webb.

ABSENT: Catherine Lewis, Carol Besse.

A little paint, or chalk, some paper, and twenty ambitious students—that was the Art Club. Organized with the help of the advisor, Mrs. Helen Macon, the Club had as its largest activity the regular Saturday morning visits to the Person Art Gallery at the University, where Miss Helene Tiranoff of the U. N. C. Art Department gave instruction in painting and drawing. Here the members of the Art Club got a chance to do some painting and sketching.

The High School aided the Club by purchasing supplies such as paper, crayons, and paints, with which the Club expanded their work.

In addition to the Art Gallery visits, the Club had active weekly meetings on Monday mornings. After the routine business was taken care of, Mrs. Macon, the advisor, and President Roy Parker led the Club members in various art projects. During the year these included decorating the bulletin board in the basement of the elementary school, taking trips over village and campus for sketching and painting, and following with interest the various Person Art Gallery exhibits.

ABSENT: Ruth Sturdivant, LeNorris Tripp, Valinda Haithecock.

After several years without a chapter in Chapel Hill High School, the Future Homemakers of America resumed activities this year. Writing a constitution, affiliating with the State and National Organizations, initiating new members, and raising money for improvements in the cottage were part of the activities of the all-girl organization when striving to get going again. With "Cooperating for School Betterment" as the theme for this year's program, the F. H. A. sponsored assembly programs and participated in activities to improve the school.

The F. H. A. Motto, "Toward New Horizons," expresses the purpose of the organization—learning to live better today in order that their lives and those of their families may be better tomorrow.

COOKING

The Club feels that work with other clubs in the State has been beneficial and greatly responsible for its progress. One of the highlights of the season was the State Rally in Raleigh early in May, where State F. H. A. Officers were elected. The delegates were entertained in the afternoon with a tea given by Mrs. Gregg Cherry at the Governor's Mansion.

Library Club

FIFTH ROW: G. S. Baldwin, John Jernigan, Robert L. Brooks, John Wettach, Jesse Basnight.

ABSENT: Frances Durham, Madeline Copeland, Peggie Maynard, Sharon Pendergrass.

With Mrs. Helen Peacock as guiding spirit, the thirty-two Library Club members, aside from attending the regular weekly meetings, carried on numerous duties and activities, including working at the circulation desk, keeping track of the library's constant stream of magazines and newspapers, typing a variety of cards for the catalog and other files, arranging bulletin boards, decorating the library for Christmas, processing new books received, writing and delivering over-due notices, and preparing an assembly program for Book Week.

SHELVING BOOKS

But all work and no play would make any Library Club Member a dull person. The list of social functions included a weiner roast at the home of the secretary, Christmas caroling on the night of the first big snow, a hayride, and a tea for the mothers.

Mary Deane Williams was an enthusiastic Club president.

Science Club

SECOND ROW: Emmett Pendergraph (president), Kimsey King (secretary), Erwin Danziger (vice-president), Charles Bartlett.

The world of today is one in which science plays a vital part. The inventions and improvements of the world of tomorrow will come from the high school students of today. Also, a minimum knowledge of scientific principles will enable one to enjoy the improvements fully. It was with these ideas in mind that the Chapel Hill High School Science Club was organized last year. While the membership was small and the activities were limited, the Club is expected to increase in both next year.

At one of the first Club meetings, it was decided that the Club would join the Science Clubs of America to further its activities. Later officers were elected and a constitution was drawn up for the Club. Each one of the Science Club members worked on an individual project during the year, and group activities increased as the year progressed.

Due to circumstances beyond the control of the Science Club members, the Club was forced to discontinue its activities in the spring of the year.

SIXTH ROW: Bobby McFarling, Thomas Harrison, Tommy Sparrow, Hubert Durham, Jacob Hardee, Charles Williams, Kenneth Smith, Howard Hearne, Donald Holloway, Earnest Eugene Edwards, John Carroll, Curtis Whitfield.

The 4-H Club was started in October with about forty-five members and Miss Katherine Highsmith as leader. Through the year it carried on its purpose of studying and applying the principles and practices relating to better agriculture and homemaking; of developing greater happiness and richer social life in the community by wholesome recreation; and of producing trained leadership and citizenship among its members.

The Club plans to continue with its activities during the summer by attending Camp Millstone near Rockingham, North Carolina, and by taking the short course at State College in Raleigh.

21 Club

SECOND ROW: Joyce Oakley, Betty Heath, Carrie Jean Wherry, Margaret Ferguson.

THIRD ROW: Herbert Pendergraft, Martha Belle Caldwell, Elizabeth Morrison, Priscilla Ellington, Alice Hazlett, Sally Jente.

Organized to learn more about the 21 Latin American republics, the 21 Club had a year of interesting activities studying the countries, their people, resources, and customs. During the year, the Club had South American students, who were taking courses at UNC, to talk to them about their people and ways. Another activity was making a map on which were placed samples of products and minerals found in these countries.

The Rotary Club sponsored the 21 Club and in May conducted an essay contest with a first prize of ten dollars.

SEVENTH ROW: Nancy Bailey, Peggy Laycock, Betty Canady, Martha Belle Caldwell, Carlyle Markham, Peggy Durham, Rebekah Huggins, Patsy Winslow, Ardie Hamilton, Elizabeth Lyons, Jo Bissell, Betsy Teague, Nancy Williams, Marian Moore.

In spite of many hardships and disappointments, the girls' choir contributed much to the school throughout the year. They presented a very impressive Christmas program directed by Mrs. L. C. MacKinney. After losing their second teacher, Mrs. Earl Slocum, the choir was stopped until mid-January when Mrs. Jane Ishee was secured for the position. Under her direction, the choir worked hard to present a program at Commencement.

This year a new program was set up whereby the students were given more time to practice.

THIRD ROW: Margaret Ferguson, Betty Heath, Sally Jente, Clyde Pridgen, Billie Suitt, Ann Abernathy, Elizabeth Morrison, Dot Durham.

FOURTH ROW: Alice Hazlett, Phyllis Ferguson, Katherine Thompson, Dot Sloan, Beth Toy, Rebekah Huggins, Patsy Winslow, Ardie Hamilton, Madeline Jennings, Pat Sullivan.

"To Give the Best of Ourselves for Others" is the standard by which the Girl Reserves live. This year, under the admirable leadership of President Elizabeth Lyons, the Chapel Hill division of the junior Y. W. C. A. helped to sell tuberculosis seals and collected donations on Tag Day for the Infantile Paralysis Drive. To those in need on Christmas and Thanksgiving, baskets of food were delivered. Two large rummage sales in the fall and spring were held and there were several supper meetings with entertainment afterwards. The annual Christmas Dance was a great success and so was the party given in March.

PROCONIAN

The second year of printed Proconians for Chapel Hill High was a year full of important news for the school, its alumni, and its friends.

EDITORS DAVID SHARPE AND STAN COHEN

Editors Sharpe, Cohen, and Ferguson, and Business Manager Lyons, started from the ground floor in the fall of 1945. The closet was bare of funds; ads had to be sold; and for the first time subscriptions had to be sold separate from the activity ticket.

Faced with an untrained staff, the editors turned out an able nucleus of reporters, largely composed of underclassmen who will be well fitted to carry on next year.

The biggest news of the year was the beginning of the construction of the new High School, but the Athletic Association ran a close second in interest and importance. The Rotary Club built a $1,200 skating rink behind the Elementary School. Student Council Officers were elected. Yes, 1945-46 was a big year for CHHS.

* * * * *

This was also a year of innovations for the Proconian—a new advisor, a new production system, a new makeup for the editorial page, and “News Briefs.” In 1945 the Proconian received a second-class rating from the National Scholastic Press Association for the 1944-45 paper, a credit to the editors of the first regularly printed volume.

The Proconian considers itself a journalistic freak, first and foremost. It is proud of being “The Only Printed High School Weekly in North Carolina,” its leading “first.” Many comment that for a school of less than 300 enrollment to publish a weekly is unusual; the staff just smiles and says, “The Proconian has been a weekly for as long as we can remember.”

Blake Leads Cats to Victorious Season

CHHS Basketeers Put School On Athletic Map

The Chapel Hill Basketeers this year had the most successful season in years. With Jimmy Blake leading the Hillians as high scorer, they had an almost undefeated season. Their first heartbreak was to Burlington in the first game of the Wildcat season by a 29-24 defeat; but when Burlington came back for another helping, they got smeared with a 27-18 decision in Chapel Hill's favor. There were several close thrillers when the Wildcats came out from behind a losing score at the half to a victory when the final whistle blew; good examples of this were the Curry and Bragtown games when the Cats won by only one point. The CHHS Basketball team was ably coached through their victorious season by George Thompson, who is studying at the University. The high school looks forward to using this year's experience for an even better team next year.

Blake Leads First CHHS Athletic Association

Longest Coaches Baseball Team

Footballers Turn In Good Performance

Although the football season was not a victorious one, it may be considered a successful one. The football team, largely composed of new material, had valuable experience in the ways and means of the game, which should prepare the Cats to produce a winning eleven next season. The scores made by the Cats show two victories (both over Graham) and six losses.

Under the expert coaching of Mr. Cecil Longest, the physical education director of the High School, the CHHS Wildcat baseball team has shown the continued fighting spirit necessary to have a winning team.

Among the returning lettermen and reserves, who led the Hillians, were Smitty Lineberger, Houston Teague, Lawrence Cheek, Jimmy Blake, Roy Riggsbee, Bob Farrell, and Billy Scott.

Great Strides Made Under Able Officers

Under the able leadership of President Jimmy Blake and Faculty Advisor Lawrence E. Pittman, the Chapel Hill High School Athletic Association has accomplished many services to athletics in the school since its organization last January. In addition to providing the necessities for the basketball and baseball games, it has bought new uniforms and equipment for the teams.

The Athletic Association of 1946 is the first in High School history.

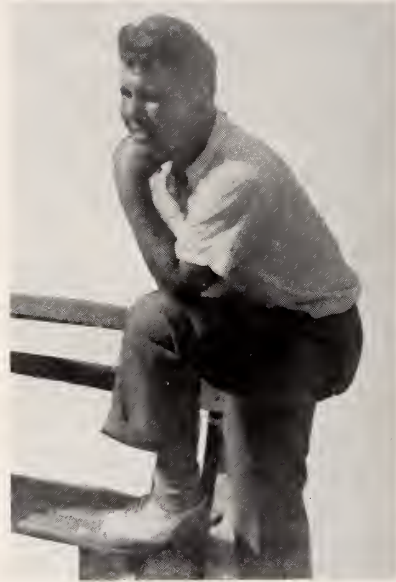

In the Sanford Tournament the team played three games with Greenwood, Moncure, and Sanford. The Cats beat Greenwood on Wednesday to the tune of 41 to 4; won on Thursday night over Moncure, 33 to 17; but were beaten 22-12 in a heartbreaker Friday night to a packed house with a record turnout of CHHS rooters.

Football

During their football season, the Chapel Hill Wildcats won two games and lost six. Their two victories were over Graham, 21-0 and 35-0. They lost to Methodist Orphanage, Siler City, and Oxford. The Hillians scored a total of 68 points; their opponents, 98.

The Cats were held back throughout the season by numerous heavy injuries. They were at full strength for only two games.

The Wildcat coaches were Marion M. ("Chub") Richards and his assistant Al Crawford. Richards is a native of Erie, Pennsylvania, and graduated from Catawba College in 1941. He came to Chapel Hill to take post-graduate work in physical education at the University.

COACH "CHUB" RICHARDS

JIMMY BLAKE

"Bluke" was the most experienced man on the team. As fullback he ran, passed, and kicked against the best our opponents offered.

SMITTY LINEBERGER

Smitty's hard work and spirit proved to be a valuable asset to the team. His ability at end should make him a star on the varsity next year.

COLLIER HILL

Playing his first year for the Wildcats, Collier proved his ability by holding down the tailback spot and leading the team in scoring.

Chapel Hill 21—Graham 0

Chapel Hill 6—Oxford 7

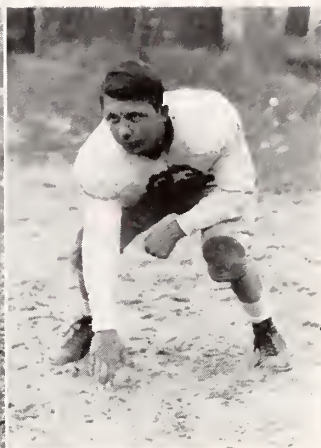

JOHN BOONE

John could always be depended upon to play a cool, steady game. He is a sophomore and will be a fine guard next year.

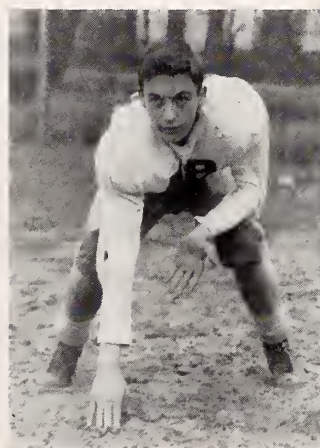

HOUSTON TEAGUE

Huey was hampered by injuries part of the season but was a dangerous runner and one of the best passers on the team.

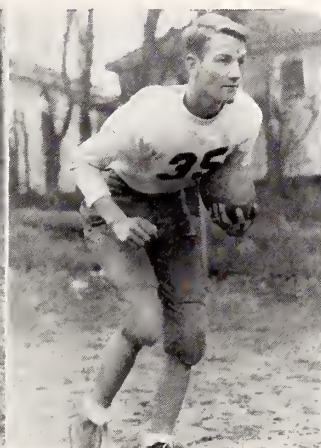

SULLY MASON

As a freshman player, Sully showed his fighting spirit. He was the smallest fellow on the team, but his speed made him an outstanding player.

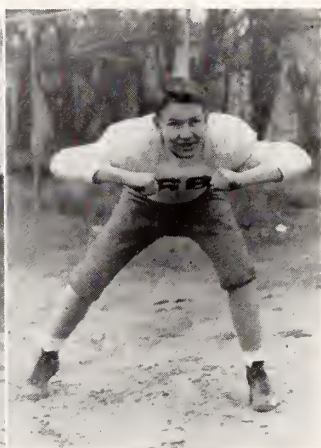

BOB PHILLIPS

Bob maneuvered skillfully on end runs and gained respect from his teammates with his willingness and endurance.

FRANK PITTMAN

In his second year on the football team, Frank proved to be a cool thinker, a hard runner, and a man on whom Coach Richards could always depend.

E. C. SMITH

When "Sunny" broke his leg in practice, he showed fine team spirit by coming back and playing the last game.

Chapel Hill 0—Siler City 25

Chapel Hill 35—Graham 0

JACK MCCAULEY

In his second year of football, Jack's fine defensive play made him one of the stars of the team.

BILL STANFORD

Although he started late, Bill worked hard and played well in several games. He suffered a broken nose in one of them.

BILL BUTLER

Bill was known to his teammates as the "hardest player on the field" because he played with all that he had in every game.

EMMETT PENDERGRAPH

Emmett was a hard tackler and a good blocker. His play in the line merited him a starting position in several games.

MILO CRAWFORD

Milo, a good defensive player, was a big help to the team. He should handle a varsity position next year.

DWIGHT WRIGHT

Dwight's outstanding play at center made him an important part of the team. He was also noted for his quick thinking and for his hard blocking.

Chapel Hill 0—Methodist Orphanage 25

Chapel Hill 0—Siler City 8

ED BUCKNER

Ed was one of the few seniors on the team. He showed his ability in blocking and tackling.

BILLY SCOTT

Billy, playing his first season for the Hillians, was a hard fighter. He was in the starting line-up several times.

ABSENT:

SAM ROSS

Sammy was one of the hardest working boys on the team. Playing center, fullback, and tackle, he proved his ability and interest.

ABSENT:

GUS WOOTEN

Gus's ability to break through the opposing line accounted for several blocked kicks.

COACH CRAWFORD

A former wrestling champion as well as a pilot in the Army Air Corps, Backfield Coach Al Crawford gave the football team a flying start and kept it going throughout the season.

Chapel Hill 0—Oxford 28

Chapel Hill 6—Methodist Orphanage 32

Basketball

At the beginning of the season, Coach George Thompson had only five lettermen and some twenty more players inexperienced in varsity ball. After a few weeks hard work, the Chapel Hill Wildcats opened their season with one of the strongest teams on the schedule. The first game was lost. After the Christmas holidays, the Cats started one of their greatest winning streaks in many years.

Although good coaching accounts for a large percentage of a team's victories, the spirited cooperation of the team figures high. The CHHS basketball season had a generous portion of both.

COACH GEORGE THOMPSON

JIMMY BLAKE

His expert ball handling, his quick thinking, and his sharp shooting were the main factors in making "Bluke" high scorer and in making the season a successful one.

SMITTY LINEBERGER

Smitty was tops in getting the ball off the backboard. His shooting was superb and always dangerous to the opposing team. He can be counted on for leadership next year.

HOUSTON TEAGUE

Huey was one of the best with set shots. His fast breaking and passing helped the 'Cat ball team win its many victories.

BOB PHILLIPS

Although a freshman, Bob showed his ability by winning a starting position in many games. He proved himself one of the best players on the team and should have an excellent future.

LAWRENCE CHEEK

Lawrence's accurate shooting and his ability to get the rebounds proved him a really fine ball player. He starred as forward.

JACK MCCAULEY

Jack was a cool ball player and was noted for his fancy one hand shots that saved many a game.

NEAL CREIGHTON

Neal, a hard working guard, played well in many games. His unusual ability easily compensated for his small size.

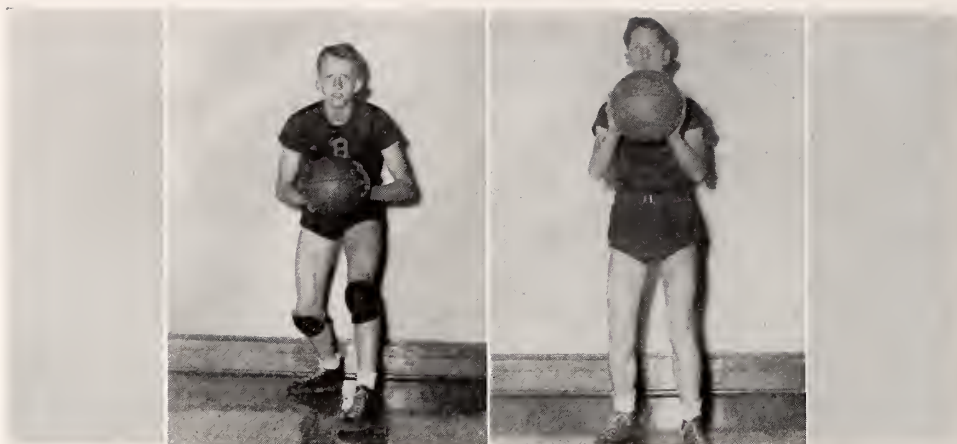

ROY RIGGSBEE

"Snooky" had to stop basketball in the middle of the season because of an ankle injury, but he will be counted on for future service.

HILBERT WILLIAMS

"Bonehead" was one of the tallest boys on the team. He starred in the "B" team games.

BILLY SCOTT

Looping the hoop from difficult angles was Billy's specialty. As a sophomore, he gives promise of a good future.

IVALEE HILL

"Bomber," although only a freshman, showed good basketball ability, and he should star in the future.

ABSENT: G. S. BALDWIN

Baldwin's set shots made him a good player. He did well in several "B" team games.

Girls' Basketball

The initial turn-out that the Chapel Hill High School Kittens had for the basketball season was the largest in a good many years. Over fifty girls came for the first practice, and most of them stuck by Coach Mary Jane ("Yang") Lloyd until the last game. Yang's fairness to the players and her patience gave the Kittens a sense of loyalty and determination. Through Yang's fine coaching, the Kittens learned to work together, a factor that put many an extra point in the basket. Even when her team was losing, Yang kept up their fine fighting spirit until the final whistle blew.

COACH "YANG" LLOYD

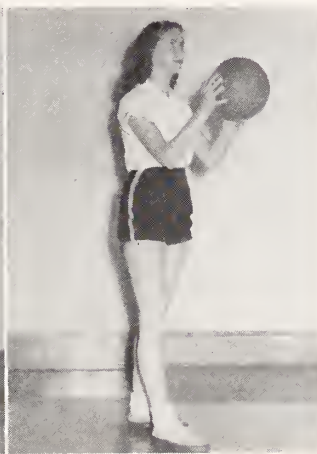

ARDIE HAMILTON

Although she left in the middle of the season, Ardie proved herself a valuable player with her ability to take and keep the ball away from opponents.

DOT HOGAN

Dot's hook shots made her one of the most valuable players on the team as well as putting her in the place of high scorer for the season.

PHYLLIS FERGUSON

Phyllis' fighting spirit and untiring energy made an important part of the team in every game. Even though she spent some time on the floor, Phyllis never let the ball go into the hands of the opponent.

JO BESSE

Jo stuck with the ball and never stopped fighting to get it. Often her fast dashes sent the ball across to her team mates.

PATTY WINSLOW

Patty's ability to get the ball out of opposing scoring territory and across the line made her a valuable asset to the team in any game.

JACKIE MERRITT

"Defeat" was not a word in Jackie's vocabulary. Although small, she could out-jump, -run, or -play any opposing forward. Her refusing to give up held the guards together.

Baseball

Mr. Cecil E. Longest trained the Hilian baseball team for a successful season. The team, built around a few returning lettermen of last year's squad (which journeyed to the state championship finals) and promising freshmen, had the true Wildcat fighting spirit. Quite a few times when things looked rather bad, the spirit and speed of the team came to the rescue.

Handling most of the hurling duties for the 'Cats were Stanley Johnson, Smitty Lineberger, and Curtis Whitfield. The infield was built around Russell Perry, Lawrence Check, Roy Riggsbee, Jimmy Blake, and Collier Hill with Jack Crawford and Bill Butler doing the catching. George Womble and Bob Farrell headed the outfield list and were aided by Hubert Durham, Dale Dollar, and Billy Scott.

THIRD ROW: Phyllis Ferguson, Ruth Sturdivant, Pat George, Alice Hazlett.

ABSENT: Beryl Ward, Helen Thompson.

For the second time in high school athletic history, Chapel Hill was represented by a girls' softball team.

Under the able coaching of Miss Betty Knox, the Kitten team planned to play Efland, Pittsboro, Lowes Grove, Needham Broughton, Siler City, Graham, Methodist Orphanage, and Cary.

Standout players during the season included Beryl Ward, Phyllis Ferguson, Dot Hogan, Madge Crawford, Helen Thompson, Nancy Cobb, Ann Abernathy, Jane Cate, and Eveline Johnson.

Coach Knox comes from High Point, where she graduated from High Point College in 1945. While she was in college, she participated in field hockey, basketball, softball, and tennis. After her graduation, she coached a boys' softball team. Miss Knox was a graduate student at the University in the Physical Education Department.

Thanks . . .

As this edition of Hilllife goes into print, I want to express gratitude to those who have contributed so much to its preparation:

To Mrs. Helen L. Macon, whose patient guidance through difficult hours gave us renewed confidence and courage.

To Stanley Cohen, whose make-up ideas eased editorial headaches.

To Joyce Ferguson, who struggled faithfully until the black won over the red side of the ledger.

To Rebekah Huggins, whose good ideas, not only in the Senior Section but also in other parts of the book, knocked frustration out of the way.

To Jimmy Blake and his sports staff who never fouled out in their co-operation for sports write-ups.

To David Sharpe, whose skillful page designing added much to our volume.

To the members of our Class who pitched in to help raise the money for the financial side of publication.

To Bill Foister, whose picture-taking and darkroom help aided in speeding the prints to the engraver.

To the members of the faculty who collaborated with us in various ways.

To Mr. Pugh and the Orange Printshop for their part in making an attractive book.

To Wootten-Moulton for the Senior portraits and the pictures in the Senior Sponsor section.

To my Speed Graphic camera, without whose assistance the pictures in our book would never have been possible.

And to all the others who have helped directly or indirectly in this issue of Hilllife—sincere appreciation.

ROBERT L. BROOKS, Editor.

Thirty CHHS Seniors to Graduate

Commencement To Be Held In Hill Hall On June 7

Final plans are being made for the graduation of the Senior Class of 1946 from Chapel Hill High School.

In the Commencement Exercises at Hill Hall, the following Seniors plan to march down the aisle in step to "Pomp and Circumstance": Billy Basnight, Jimmy Blake, Robert L. Brooks, Howard Bennett, Edward Buckner, Edwin Cheek, Stanley Cohen, Jack Crawford, John Curtiss, Erwin Danziger, Betty Sue Duncan, Betsy Emory, Joyce Ferguson, Rebekah Huggins, Catherine Lewis, Elizabeth Lyons, Carlisle Markham, Roger Neal, Clyde Pridgen, David Sharpe, Nancy Shields, Watts Sparrow, Margaret Taylor, Houston Teague, Winifred Thompson, Preston Wescoat, Nancy Williams, Pat Winslow, and Ruth Young.

The Class numbered thirty-three strong at the beginning of the year. Ardie Hamilton and Angus Wootten moved from Chapel Hill, and Johnny Johnson entered the University as a special student.

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class will be held in the Presbyterian Church on June 2, where Rev. Charles M. Jones will deliver the sermon. The High School Glee Club will offer music for the service.

Junior-Senior Prom To Be Given In June

Moving Around

The graduating Senior Class has had a variety of class buildings in their CHHS career.

During their Freshman year, they were taught the "A, B, C's" of high school in the Elementary School building. Half the Sophomore year took place in the Baptist Church. The rest of their sentence was spent in action in the Cone House and Elementary School. There is a possibility that they will be using the new building before graduation.

Jean Cashion, chairman of the Junior-Senior planning committee, has announced that the coveted event will be given the first week in June in the Carolina Inn.

Great secrecy on the part of the Juniors surrounds the Prom, and both Classes are eagerly awaiting the night it is to be held.

The Junior-Senior Prom is an event that students look forward to from the day they enter school till the time they are Seniors and have attended their last Junior-Senior.

Big Day Planned

Tentative plans have been made for a Senior Day near the end of school. Seniors are scheduled to wear overalls and come barefoot to class. As another event, a hayride to a nearby lake is forecasted for the day.

On Senior Day, the Seniors have the privilege of asking lower classmen to "run errands" for them, as well as other hilarities.
